

Openings for Designated Assistant Professor (fixed-term)
Division for Theoretical Studies
The Kobayashi-Maskawa Institute for the Origin of Particles and the Universe (KMI)
Nagoya University
Nagoya, Japan
<http://www.kmi.nagoya-u.ac.jp/eng/>

The Kobayashi-Maskawa Institute for the Origin of Particles and the Universe (KMI) was founded in 2010 in order to solve the fundamental mysteries of elementary particle physics and the universe and to develop new frontiers in physics by the collaboration between theoretical particle physics groups, experimental particle physics groups, cosmology and theoretical astrophysics groups, experimental astrophysics groups, and mathematical physics groups including string theorists. Division for Theoretical Studies in KMI seeks to fill a full-time, non-tenure-track, designated Assistant Professor position.

Minimum Qualifications:

- 1) PhD or equivalent doctoral degree in Physics
- 2) Willingness to widely participate in the activity of the Division for Theoretical Studies and KMI including administrative duties for KMI as well as to participate in research activities in the division.
- 3) Excellent research experience in relevant fields

Term:

The earliest possible date after April 1, 2024, to March 31, 2029.

Salary:

Conforming to the rules of the Tokai National Higher Education and Research System

Contact: Shin'ichi Nojiri (nojiri@gravity.phys.nagoya-u.ac.jp), Head of Division of Theoretical Studies, KMI (in English or Japanese Language)

Application deadline: December 22, 2023

Others:

- 1) Nagoya University is an equal-opportunity employer. Applications from female and non-Japanese researchers are encouraged.
- 2) Submitted information will be used only for the purpose of the selection.
- 3) KMI will not bear your travel expenses to Nagoya University for any reason during the selection.
- 4) In November 2021, in accordance with the clarification of the scope of control for “deemed exports” under the Foreign Exchange and Foreign Trade Act (“FEFTA”), some provision of sensitive technology to faculty members and students by universities and research institutions has become subject to control under the FEFTA. Consistently with this change, when applying for faculty positions or to study at the University, faculty, staff, and students will be required to submit a “Declaration of applicable specific categories” based on the “Flowchart for determining applicable specific categories.” Faculty, staff, and some students will also be required to submit a “Letter of confirmation” at the time of their recruitment or admission.
